

Journal of Flow Chemistry

The first impact factor of the Journal of Flow Chemistry (JFC) was announced in the 2013 edition of the Journal Citation Reports® (JCR) in June 2013. The remarkable value of 4.091 confirms the high importance of the research field and the scientific impact of the articles published in the journal.

The idea of the journal attracted many highly cited scientists from around the world so the average Hirsch-index of both the editors (30.2) and corresponding authors (28.0) is remarkable. JFC invites manuscripts of the experts of the above fields.

The Journal of Flow Chemistry is the 32nd of 152 journals in the 'Chemistry, Multidisciplinary' subject category of the Science Citation Index®. This is the 23rd journal with an impact factor published by Akadémiai Kiadó, one of the leading publishers in Central Europe (a Wolters Kluwer company founded in 1828).